Utility Leadership Nomination

Nominated by: NACWA National Office

Dan McLawhorn

Former City Attorney - City of Raleigh, NC

Dan McLawhorn served as a distinguished member of the municipal clean water legal community and the NACWA Legal Affairs committee until his recent retirement as a City Attorney with the City of Raleigh, North Carolina.

Dan was an active member of the Legal Affairs Committee, participating regularly in meetings and telephone calls and always bringing insight and legal analysis to whatever the legal issue of the day was. He also served on a regular basis as part of the informal planning committee for NACWA's annual National Clean Water Law & Enforcement Seminar, helping identify topics that were timely and relevant for the seminar program. He also frequently served as a speaker and panelist at the seminar, sharing his legal acumen with his peers.

Dan was especially interested in issues around nutrient regulation in the water quality space. He was an active member of NACWA's Water Quality Trading Workgroup, sharing his perspective on how nutrient issues were impacting water regulations throughout North Carolina and the Southeast. His input was critical in helping NACWA form its advocacy positions around the issue of trading, and well as informing the Association's role in litigation over trading programs.

NACWA is incredibly grateful to Dan for his many years of service and contributions to the Association's legal and regulatory advocacy.
